INSULL STILL DEFIES REED COMMITTEE

PRODUCES CHECK AT HEARING BUT FAILS
TO EXPLAIN $65,000

Says Attorney Advises
Silence On Gifts
During Campaign

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—After placing in evidence a $190,000 check which covered his contributions in the last Illinois senatorial primary, Samuel Insull, the multi-millionaire Chicago utility king, today renewed his defiance of the Reed campaign committee by again refusing to name the recipients of two $20,000 gifts.

Insull testified he wrote the check to cover most of the $237,925 he spent in the Illinois campaign. He declared $172,925 of this sum had been spent in the senatorial campaign and $65,000 in the Cook County (Chicago) campaign.

Insull admitted he had borrowed all the money given to the senatorial campaign from the Commonwealth-Edison Company, one of his public utilities. He refused, however, to say whether the $65,000 spent in the county campaign had come from the same source.

Insull defied the committee on all questions concerning the $65,000, saying he did so on the advice of his personal attorney. He also defied the committee when asked to give the names of the persons to whom he gave two $20,000 gifts in the county campaign.

Insull explained that the check was issued June 30, 1926, to cover loans taken from the tills of Commonwealth-Edison Co., of Chicago, one of the public utilities under his control.

Insull read a statement explaining the transaction.

"On looking over the transcript of my testimony given on Monday last, I find there is some confusion in the question as well as the answers," said Insull. "Therefore, I wish to make this statement for the purpose of clearing up the confusion and removing the possibility of a misunderstanding of my testimony."

I have heretofore testified that I made contributions totaling $237,925.10, in connection with the primary election held in Illinois on April 13, 1926. Of this sum, $172,925.10 was contributed for the purpose of influencing nominations of persons for United States senator. The remainder, $65,000, was contributed to influence the nominations of various persons for various local county offices, and I firmly believe that it was used exclusively for such purposes.

"Said sum of $172,925.10 was contributed during the period of a few months preceding the primary and all of it was borrowed by me from Commonwealth-Edison Company, pending reimbursement of the company from my own funds as soon as I could conveniently arrange for it."

"I was absent from the state of Illinois, on a trip to Europe, from about March 17th until May 12th, 1926. On June 30th, 1926, I gave the Commonwealth-Edison Co., my personal check for $190,000 to repay said amount of $172,925.10, which I had so borrowed, together with other items of indebtedness owing from me to the company. This check was used by the Commonwealth-Edison Co., of Chicago, and I now tender the check to the committee for its inspection."

"All of the $65,000 contributed to influence the nominations for local offices in Cook County was furnished by me, partly from my own funds and partly from money which I borrowed at the time and have since repaid."

MISSING LAUNCH IS FOUND IN REFUGE

CORDOVA, Alaska, Feb. 26.—The launch Imp, which has been missing since Feb. 20, was found today off Port Etches where it had taken refuge from a storm.

The boat, carrying two radio operators and supplies to the radio station on Hinchbrook Island, was believed to have foundered.

Searchers aboard the forestry ship Chugach found A. Williams, pilot of the boat, and Clifford Muir and Edwin J. Rest radio operators, uninjured.

GALLIPOLIS, O., Feb. 26.—Plans to salvage the river steamer "Vanderquor," were being made here today, following its sinking in deep water near Xenia, last week.

The steamer, owned by the Wheeling Steel Corporation, capsized during a wind storm but the crew of fifteen reached safety in yaws.

What Chaplin Thinks About

Hopes To Fall In Love
Again, But—With Older Woman

By MARY BLADE
Exclusive Dispatch, Copyright, 1927

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Charlie Chaplin will wed again—if he finds the right woman. She will be a woman near his own age.

Though the comedian who probably is the world's best known man, will not admit that his love for Lita Grey Chaplin is entirely dead despite all that has happened, he sees the impossibility of a reconciliation except for the welfare of his children, and even that eventuality is extremely improbable.

Today Chaplin speaks of his wife tolerantly, with bitter pity. "I think she is misguided and doesn't know what she is doing."

Lita Grey Chaplin and the ill-fated romances with Mildred Harris, Pola Negri and others, have not made him a woman-hater. "Of course, I like women," he said. "Life wouldn't be worth living without them. After all, what is one's art but a love letter?"

He hopes to fall in love again. This interview has the impression that if there is another romance and marriage, it will be with a woman nearer his own age. Mildred Harris and Lita Grey Chaplin, as all the world knows now, were child brides. Until this last ordeal Chaplin was, in spirit, himself a child, and he naturally turned to youth for companionship. But he is older now. The separation, Lita's charges, threatened disaster to his screen career.

BLAMES WINTER FOR SUICIDE EPIDEMIC

BERKELEY, Cal., Feb. 26.—The recent epidemic of suicides among students is the result of a long, cold winter, in the opinion of President W. W. Campbell of the University of California.

"These suicides," he said, "coming as they do at the end of a long winter, are the result of depression, caused perhaps by lack of sleep, or food, or clothing. Many students have had a hard time over the winter, and a state of mental depression is the natural result."

"Said sum of $172,925.10 was contributed during the period of a few months preceding the primary and all of it was borrowed by me from Commonwealth-Edison Company, pending reimbursement of the company from my own funds as soon as I could conveniently arrange for it."

RAIN STORM CAUSES DAMAGE IN EAST

BOSTON, Feb. 26.—A terrific rain and wind storm, which swept New England during the night and continued today, raised havoc with telephone and telegraph communication systems throughout Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

In Maine every telephone circuit with the exception of that in Portland is out of order. In New Hampshire but five communities have service, and there is no telephone service possible in Vermont.

The terrific wind that accompanied the rain swept down wires and poles causing damage that will require several days work to establish even temporary relief.

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 26.—Clyde (Kay) Jeakle, boxer, and once a contender for the lightweight title, was arrested here today, with two companions, charged with violation of the prohibition law.

Jeakle admitted ownership of an automobile, in which ten cases of beer were being stored, according to police.

The two men held with Jeakle are Blaine Wallace and Frank Vitto.

Public hearings were completed, for the time being, at least, late Friday.

Thirty days have been given

DRIVE FOR FEDERAL COAL REGULATIONS IS GIVEN IMPETUS

Next Congress May Pass Legislation Is Believed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The congressional drive for federal legislation to regulate the coal industry was accelerated today as word of the collapse of the Miami wage negotiations between bituminous miners and operators.

A strike this spring in the soft coal fields unquestionably would speed the regulatory bills in the next congress in December. It is too late this session to do anything.

Federal supervision, either as a temporary expedient or as a permanent measure, is anathema both to miners and operators. They have always fought strenuously against outside intervention in their affairs.

Declaring that the coal industry has been unable to place its house in order, as shown by frequent strikes and fights over wages, sponsors of coal bills announced today that they would renew efforts in the 70th congress to obtain federal regulation. President Coolidge has endorsed the plan.

Referring to the Miami breakdown, Rep. Parker (R) of New York, author of the administration-supported coal bill, declared "it is just what I anticipated when I made my second attempt to enact coal legislation this session."

PROBE FIRE WHICH DESTROYED TOWN

WILLIAMSTOWN, Ky., Feb. 26.—While state officials planned an investigation to ascertain the cause of the fire that early yesterday left the village of Dry Ridge, four miles north of here, in ruins, citizens there today were checking their losses which were expected to pass the $500,000 mark.

But few of the buildings destroyed by the fire were covered by insurance, it was said today.

ON HONEYMOON

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dillman were in San Francisco today for a continuation of their honeymoon which began last May when the widow of Horace E. Dodge married the former husband of Marjorie Rambeau, actress.

Thomas C. Watson, a crossing watchman, was killed by a train at Warren, Ohio, when blinded by snow.

DEFENDERS OF SHANGHAI ARE DISORGANIZED IS REPORTED

Shantung Troops Being Rushed To Replace Demoralized Defenders—More British Marines Arriving

SHANGHAI, Feb. 26.—Sun Chuan Fang's Shanghai defenders are thoroughly disorganized and unless the forces of Chang Tso Lin can be moved to the front within a few hours the Cantonese armies appear today likely to bring their drive for Shanghai to the city's gates.

The Shantung forces are being rushed through Shanghai to the battle front as fast as transportation can be provided, and as they arrive they are replacing the demoralized Sun Chuan Fang units. Night long troop movements are said to have resulted in 15,000 fresh Shantung forces reaching the front, making the Shantung army in active service about 20,000, with additional troops trains arriving in Shanghai hourly.

Within the international settlement conditions are more normal. Foreign troops are still stationed well outside the concession to form a first line of defense if there are any disorders on the part of the uncontrolled and disorganized soldiers fleeing back from the battle front. Motor-lorries are standing by ready to move foreign troops to any quarter where an invasion of the foreign quarters may threaten.

One thousand British marines are expected to arrive tonight to augment the already heavy troops. American marines are in the harbor ready to disembark and Italian and Japanese forces are patrolling the streets.

There is no question of "a split" between Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Dawes. That already exists. There is an official coolness between the president and the vice president of long standing, and which has been particularly marked during the present session.

Neither Gov. Lowden nor Gen. Dawes has taken with equanimity the severe lacing handed out to the sponsors of the bill by the president in his veto message. Mr. Coolidge described the bill as unconstitutional, economically unsound, unworkable, unjust—in short a fanciful measure written by economic incompetents.

Gen. Dawes, as the co-author of the Dawes plan, a negotiator of long standing and experience, rather considers himself an economist. He, at least, is not expected by his friends to relish the verbal darts shot in his direction by the veto message. Gov. Lowden also lays claim to being something of an economist. He has been a successful banker, lawyer, farmer, as well as governing the state of Illinois for some years.

FARM RELIEF VETO CAUSES DEBATE ON COOLIDGE FUTURE

Reaction Said To Have Helped Lowden
Chances

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The effect of President Coolidge's veto of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill upon his chances of succeeding himself in 1928 was a hotly debated question in the capital today where ever two or more politicians gathered.

"Mr. Coolidge, by this veto, has signed his political death warrant. He at last has definitely alienated the normally Republican mid-west."

"Mr. Coolidge, by this veto, has shown himself a courageous statesman, above sectionalism, which in the long run will be appreciated and rewarded by the country with renomination and reelection."

Between these two extremes the controversy turned and spluttered. Representatives of the agricultural west were raging, publicly and privately. So, too, were some of the southern Democrats. On the other hand, the representatives of the powerful industrial and financial east were loud in their praise for the president's summary decapitation of the farm bloc's pet child.

While the extremists on either side made extravagant claims, there was on all sides a general recognition of the fact that whatever else Mr. Coolidge may have done in rejecting the bill he has, at least, let himself in for a savage fight if he aspires to another term in the White House.

The action of the Iowa legislature in starting a petition in favor of ex-governor Frank O. Lowden's nomination within an hour after news of the veto reached Des Moines was cited as merely one indication of the opposition that Mr. Coolidge may expect in 1928.

The two men that were more responsible than any others for the enactment of the McNary-Haugen bill were Ex-Governor Lowden and Vice-President Charles C. Dawes. Without their championship the bill never would have passed. Lowden has written and spoken in favor of it throughout the grain belt for two years. It was Dawes who took the parliamentary helm in congress and by shrewd generalship maneuvered it through both houses.

Both men are considered candidates by every politically-minded person in Washington.

FOUND GUILTY

Leo Halterman, confessed slayer of his half-brother and the latter's wife, was found guilty of first degree murder without recommendation of mercy by a jury in Washington C. H. It is denied Halterman must die in the electric chair.

HALTERMAN GUILTY OF MURDER WITHOUT MERCY STATES JURY

Fayette Countian To Face Electric Chair For Double Death

WASHINGTON C. H., O., Feb. 26.—Death in the electric chair is the penalty faced today by Leo Halterman, confessed slayer of his half-brother and the latter's wife, as the result of a verdict returned late yesterday by a jury which deliberated his case after an eleven-day trial.

The jury found him guilty of murder in the first degree, without recommendation of mercy. Halterman was taken back to county jail to await the filing of a motion for a new trial by his attorneys, after sentence is pronounced, probably during the next few days.

He showed no signs of emotion at the verdict, although his aged mother, who testified in his behalf, collapsed after he left the court room.

Halterman confessed that he shot his half-brother, Charles Halterman, with whom he lived on a farm at Blessing's Corner, and later beat to death Mrs. Charles Halterman. He pleaded not guilty and sought to justify the killing on the grounds of self defense, and accidental shooting.

BUTLER TO DEBATE AGAINST WHEELER

WESTERVILLE, O., Feb. 26.—A joint radio debate on prohibition between Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, west president of Columbia University, and Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League of America, seemed possible according to league officials here today.

Both Wheeler and Butler have been prominent in expounding their theories on this subject, and a challenge is expected to come from Wheeler to Butler early next week.

The debate it is said here, now hinges practically on tentative arrangements with a national broadcasting company.

THREE CONVICTED ON MURDER CHARGE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—A jury in District Supreme Court today found three men guilty of first degree murder in the killing of Policeman Leo K. Bush. This carries the death penalty in the district, a new electric chair having taken place of the old scaffold.

Those found guilty were: Sam Moreno, Nick Eagles, and John Proctor. A fourth man, John F. McCabe, was acquitted. All are said by police to have criminal records.

The vote on closure was scheduled for one o'clock this afternoon and the Boulder dam advocates faced this test fearful of defeat. With closure rejected, the bill will be swept by the boards while a favorable vote, requiring a two-thirds majority, would insure its enactment.

PROGRAM ARRANGED WOULD AFFECT FOUR COUNTY CROSSINGS

Schlesinger Proposes Five Year Program In Ohio

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 26.—State Highway Director George Schlesinger today made public a tentative list of 248 railroad grade crossings, situated throughout Ohio, which the state highway department hopes will be eliminated within the next five years.

These dangerous crossings are located on the state highway system.

Schlesinger said that, in making up this list, consideration was given both to highway needs and to the matter of proportioning the work of elimination among the various railroads operating in Ohio.

The tentative list provides for elimination of one railroad grade crossing in Adams County, six in Allen, five in Ashland, five in Ashtabula, four in Athens, one in Auglaize, five in Belmont, two in Brown, three in Butler, one in Carroll, two in Champaign, seven in Clark, two in Clermont, two in Clinton, four in Columbiana, one in Coshocton, one in Crawford, four in Cuyahoga, four in Darke, one in Delaware, four in Delaware, five in Erie, two in Fairfield, one in Fayette, three in Franklin, two in Fulton, two in Gallia, one in Geauga, four in Greene, one in Guernsey, six in Hamilton, four in Hancock, three in Hardin, three in Harrison, two in Henry, one in Highland, one in Hocking, one in Holmes, six in Huron, four in Jackson, three in Jefferson, six in Knox, two in Lake, one in Lawrence, three in Licking, one in Logan, six in Lorain, four in Lucas, two in Mahoning, three in Marion, two in Medina, one in Meigs, four in Miami, two in Montgomery, four in Morrow, three in Muskingum, one in Noble, four in Ottawa, one in Paulding, three in Perry, two in Pike, five in Portage, five in Preble, two in Putnam, six in Richland, five in Ross, two in Sandusky, two in Scioto, four in Seneca, four in Stark, six in Summit, four in Trumbull, six in Tuscarawas, three in Union, two in Van Wert, two in Vinton, two in Washington, six in Wayne, three in Williams, two in Wood, and two in Wyandot County.

Crossings proposed to be eliminated include:

In Montgomery County: Penn. one mile west of Bachman on State Route One and Penn. two miles north of West Carrollton on State Route Six.

In Miami County: Big Four at Ludlow Falls on State Route Fifty; B. and O., one and one-half miles northeast of Piqua on State Route Six; B. and O. at Troy, east corporation line, on State Route Fifty-five; B. and O. at east corporation line, Piqua, on State Route Twenty-nine.

In Darke County: Big Four at Dawn and Penn. at Pikeville, both on State Route Nine; Big Four three-quarters mile east of Versailles on State Route Sixty-eight; and Penn. one-half mile west of Gettysburg on State Route Twenty-nine.

In Greene County: Penn. four and one-quarter miles northeast of Cedarville on State Route Six; B. & O. three miles northwest of Xenia and Penn. three-quarters mile east of Xenia, both on State Route Eleven, and Big Four and Erie four miles west of Osborn on State Route Fifty-two.

In Butler County: C. I. & W. at McGinley on State Route 126; B. & O. at Chicks on State Route Six; and C. & O. of Indiana one-half mile southeast of Okeana on State Route 129.

In Hamilton County: Big Four one-quarter mile south of Elizabethtown on State Route Seven; C. & O. of Indiana one mile west of Taylor's Creek on State Route 130; C. & O. of Indiana four and one-half miles north of Miami on State Route 128; Penn. five miles north of Remington, Big Four four and one-half miles northwest of Remington and B. & O. six and three-quarters miles northwest of Remington, all on State Route Twenty-six.

The crossing three-quarters of a mile east of Xenia is the James-town Pike crossing, where Gertrude Neff, 17, near Jamestown, was killed Wednesday.

The Pennsylvania crossing four and one-quarter miles northeast of Cedarville on State Route Six is thought by Pennsylvania Railroad officials to mean the crossing about four miles directly east of Cedarville on the line running through Selma to Columbus.

The B. & O. crossing "northwest of Xenia" is taken to mean the Trebenn Crossing, directly west, also crossed by the Pennsylvania.

LOOKING AHEAD TO 1928

Nicholas Longworth may have taken a leaf out of the copious political notebook of his famous and strenuous father-in-law, the late Theodore Roosevelt, in nailing preparedness to the Longworthian mast. Some of his friends regard it just within the range of possibilities that "Nick" may plan to elevate the national defense to the dignity of his presidential ambitions the ruler of the lower house of pugilism is said to cherish.

The speaker is not lacking in political nerve and independence. He smote the Coolidge naval economy program a surprising blow one night, even though he knew that he and "Princess Alice," were invited to dine at the White House the evening after.

ON SCOUTING EXPEDITION

Charles D. Hilles, of New York, vice chairman of the Republican national committee, has embarked upon a cross country scouting expedition which, politicians believe, may largely determine Calvin Coolidge's intentions anent re-nomination.

Hilles is a Coolidge man. He contends that the president will be the Republican candidate in 1928 if he wants to be, and, if nominated, will be invincible.

The Empire State G. O. P. leader will go north and west to the Pacific coast and return to the east via New Orleans and Atlanta. When he reaches the White House six or eight weeks hence, Hilles will have conferred with virtually every republican politician of consequence in the country.

The "low down" he brings with him on Coolidge sentiment in the four quarters of the nation will include a report on prohibition trend.

STRATEGY IN PRESIDENT'S MOVE

President Coolidge's attitude toward naval powers reluctant to confer with the United States on further limitation of armament begins to look as if he were determined and content to place the United States on record and let it go at that.

If in advance or at a conference, agreement seems impossible, this country will at least have done its level best to banish the spectre of another ruinous competition in sea defenses.

There's considerable undercurrent speculation as to the grand strategy that led up to Mr. Coolidge's recent proposal. Some authorities suggest that he acted without the usual diplomatic soundings abroad because the President intended merely to bring pressure to bear in congress at an hour when house and senate are deadlocked in conference over the cruiser program.

A cynical though finding expression is that the White House moved, with accustomed celerity, to divert public attention from the third-term talk which erupted about the same moment.

Mr. Coolidge is no mean tactician when the slings and arrows of outrageous politics are coming his way. Last November, within 24 hours after the congressional elections were causing the comment that the administration had been "rebuked," the President backed that news off the front pages with a proposal for a rebate in taxes.

FOR LEAGUE CO-OPERATION

Plans have taken form for an organized drive at the opening session of the Seventieth congress to bring about a more definite system of American co-operation with the League of Nations.

There will be nothing in the shape of an effort to revive the issue of full-fledged membership in the league. Even the most ardent Democratic authorities who once advocated membership on Wilsonian or semi-Wilsonian lines now concede that such a project has been disposed of indefinitely, if not forever.

What will be proposed in the next congress is a formal declaration by the President and by the house and senate that the United States is prepared, whenever possible, to work with the league. The purpose is to define this country's attitude so that it will be less casual than at present and while committing us on no specific occasion, to let the world know categorically that the United States is ready to join in promoting international welfare.

A mere tabulation of the varying forms of American participation in League activities since June, 1920, exhibits that it has taken place on a scale hardly less extensive than if we had been regular, members of the Geneva body.

MADAME SCHUMANN-HEINK DENIES SHE IS CIGARETTE USER

Madame Schumann-Heink, concert singer, quoted in advertisements as a cigarette user, was "imposed upon" by the advertiser, according to George Engles, New York, her secretary.

Engles wrote to Mrs. Carrie L. Flatter, Xenia, secretary of the National Anti-Cigarette Alliance of America, who had inquired as to the truth of the advertising which quoted Madame Schumann-Heink as a cigarette smoker. His letter follows:

"Madame Schumann-Heink is in receipt of your communication of February 14th.

"Madame regrets exceedingly the circumstances surrounding the appearance of the cigarette advertisement in question and she wishes you to know that she was grossly imposed upon. During Madame's war work she had numerous occasions to notice the great comfort which the men in the camps and hospitals seemed to derive from cigarette smoking but Madame, herself, has never smoked, does not approve of it and certainly does not recommend it.

"It will interest you to know that this matter is now in the hands of Madame Schumann-Heink's attorneys and legal steps are contemplated to protect Madame against the recurrence of such misrepresentations."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Q. I am twenty-one years of age, five feet four inches tall, weigh 120 pounds, and am well developed. What I would like to know is why I sweat so profusely, even when out in the cold. I also have cramps in my hands when sleeping. Is that due to cold?

A. There is nothing particularly abnormal about it. It simply means that your sweat glands are very well developed. Sponging the body with a hot solution of alum will sometimes check the perspiration. I do not think it is due to cold, but probably to pressure interfering with the circulation in the hands.

BARBER'S ITCH

The annoying eruption of the skin known as barber's itch is a variety of the contagious disease known as Syphilis or ringworm, and is the direct result of the action of the vegetable parasite known as trichophyton.

It is acquired very frequently with the barber's art, the parasite being conveyed by the razor, the brush, or other implements which the barber uses. Of course it implies want of cleanliness on his part. But it may be acquired in other ways, so that the barber must not be held responsible for it in all cases.

The same parasite causes this disease not only upon the hair of the beard which is affected in shaving, but the skin upon any portion of the body, and even the nails.

It begins as a small red point which gradually enlarges in circular form, the center retaining, more or less, the natural color of the skin while the red border or ring gradually becomes covered with a scaly formation. It may or may not give rise to an annoying itch, but as it progresses the inflammation becomes deep-seated and troublesome, the hair follicles becoming involved, the hairs broken and destroyed, and the discharge more or less abundant and troublesome. The more numerous the rings the greater the extent of the eruption, the greater the annoyance, the disfigurement and the mortification.

Those who have it very often experience not only mortification, but shame on its account. This is entirely unjustifiable for if there is any parasitic, contagious disease that is acquired innocently, it is this. Its nature is such, however, that those who have it ought not to patronize a public barber shop.

However careful a barber may be in shaving one who has this disease he cannot be certain that he may not transfer it to others unless he is far more particular in sterilizing his implements than barbers usually are or may be expected to be.

The disease is quite amenable to treatment if the treatment is careful, thorough and intelligent. Strict cleanliness is the first and imperative essential, the skin being cleansed daily with carbolic soap and hot water.

Loose and diseased hairs must be removed and each ring in the eruption together with the adjoining skin, painted daily with a parasiticide lotion or ointment with a parasiticide ointment. Iodine, sulphur, tar and carbolic acid are frequently used in treating the disease and if good results are not obtained with one, another and another must be tried until the efficient one is found.

The disease may last several weeks or even months and eventually the hairs which were lost may again grow out.

The Theatre

Broadway was puzzled with a perplexing mystery a couple of months back when it was announced that Ed Wynn was forsaking the stage and about to enter the movies. Along the Great White Way, in the Lambs and the Players clubs, little groups of actors, playwrights and chorus girls clustered and asked for "the dirt" (Broadwayese for 'the low-down') as to why Wynn was entering the new medium.

Now, whenever a stage actor goes into movies the natural conjecture, and usually the correct one, is that he did it for the money and the wife and kiddies. But wise ones of Manhattan discount this for they knew that Wynn was almost a millionaire. For ten years he has ranked with Fred Stone and Al Johnson as comedians who have pulled power sufficiently magnetic to pack any theatre outside New York, as well as it. And they knew, too, these wise ones, that Ed Wynn loved the stage, that it was his pride and joy. Hadn't he incurred the life-long enmity of the theatrical managers at the time of the actors' strike five years ago by acting as ringleader in the struggle to win decent wages for the underpaid moths of the stage, the chorus girls? He had everything to lose and nothing to gain. He did it because he loved the theatre.

Months passed and Wynn made no move to put on a new show. Then came the movie announcement and Broadway wondered. The real story is that Wynn is a family man. For years he has lived in a huge home at Great Neck with his mother, his wife and an adopted sister. He ran into one of those family catastrophes last summer. All at once all three of these women whom he loved so dearly fell dangerously ill. He was so broken up by his trouble that he could not go on the stage and face audiences and make them laugh while he was

by FRED C. KELLY

WHEN WERE YOU HAPPIEST?

So far as I can recall, the only persons I have ever known who confessed to being truly happy were no-account folks who shouldn't have been happy. That is, they were too easily satisfied. If they had been more intelligent, they would have required more to make them happy. It wasn't that, like some of the great philosophers, they found

FRED KELLY's happiness in their thoughts and didn't require many material possessions. Those to whom I refer didn't even do much thinking.

I have in mind an old mountaineer with a slattern of a wife, and a houseful of ill-nourished children. While asking him for road directions, we got into conversation and he told me that he was perfectly happy—that he had no unfulfilled ambitions, and he could work a little harder, he said, and make more money, but he had all he wanted.

But I insist that he should have wanted more. His happiness was so easily obtained that it worked a hardship on his family. His children needed more and better food and clothing. If he couldn't lift his children above the level of mere animals, then he shouldn't have had them. If he couldn't be happy while doing so little for his family, then his happiness was almost a curse.

To most people, happiness is a will-o'-the-wisp, always just beyond. Making us think that we will overtake it, is nature's way of keeping us full of ambition and inducing us to work harder. One might inquire what is the use of working harder if we are not going to catch up with happiness.

When the police closed "The Captive," the management notified those who had purchased advance tickets that their money would be refunded. They made a notably sophisticated and well dressed parade. After their first annoyance they expressed amusement at the operation of police censorship.

One conscientious sidewalk ticket speculator stuck to his post outside the theater refunding money for tickets he had sold for the performance which did not take place. He was refunded in full. But before his name could be learned a man tried to exact a refund in full for two tickets purchased elsewhere. A crowd collected and the only honest ticket speculator fled from in front of the theater to avoid arrest.

The "hams" in the cast of one of the soiled shows closed by the cons drew up a set of resolutions defying the authorities and saying that they "owed it to their profession and their public" to go through with their performance and not be intimidated.

According to their calculations, owing all that to their "profession and their public," they figure they don't even owe a darn thing to their own self respect.

MAKING MODERN MENUS

Molded salads are a delicious main dish for small luncheon parties, as many know. One advantage is that they may be prepared the night before or very early on the same day that the guests are expected.

SHRIMP SALAD
Cut one can of shrimps in small pieces, reserving four whole ones. Soak one-half tablespoon of gelatin in one tablespoon of cold water, dissolve in one and one-third tablespoons of hot vinegar, add a few grains of pepper, one-third teaspoon of mustard, salt, cayenne and a few drops of onion and lemon juice. When it is cold beat in a half cup of cream beaten stiff. Put in four charlotte russe cups, cover with reserve cream and chill. When firm garnish with parsley, shrimps and green pepper cut in strips. Cover with jelly made from one-third cup chicken stock and one-fourth tablespoon of gelatin seasoned to taste and leave in cold place until wanted.

Another nice way to prepare a luncheon dish is in ramekins.

SCALLOPS IN RAMEKIN
Into four and a half tablespoons of butter stir three thin slices of onion and one red chili pepper. Remove the onion and the pepper and add four tablespoons of flour and one teaspoon of salt. Add one pint of cream and stir until it begins to boil. Pour boiling water over one pint of scallops, boil for one minute, then set on a cooler part of the stove to simmer for ten minutes. Strain and add to sauce and fill ramekins. Cover with mashed potato to which the beaten white of an egg has been added and brown in oven.

Little Old New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—New York prides itself on its liberality and broad-gauged sympathies and estimates. Nearly every woman in town smokes, and yet the Big Burg's biggest "pill" purveyor doesn't dare include Mother and The Girls in his daily newspaper appeals for patronage.

Naturally he cannot quite overlook them, so he seeks refuge in circumlocution. In a recent bid for business he says:

"Don't wait on the outside while Big Boy is in selecting his favorite Stogie. Come inside and wait. You're safer in the shop than on the sidewalk."

Little Old New York

There's a bill before the legislature making it compulsory for theatre managers and fight promoters to number the rows on tickets, instead of lettering them as is the prevailing custom. The numbers are to start with one, designating the first row, and to run consecutively.

If the bill passes and you buy a ticket in Row J you won't have your evening spoiled by learning, later, that instead of being nine rows from the front, you are really 100 rows distant—the J on the ticket meaning the ninth row of the eleventh division.

The system of using letters on tickets instead of numbers is a neat subterfuge for bilking the boob.

Some months ago a woman had the proprietor of a radio shop haled to court complaining that a loud speaker, operating full blast from early morning until late at night, so distressed her that she was unable to confine her attention to business affairs. Her office being directly over the radio shop, she thought she had a good case.

But a masterful and different lawyer, he listened to some selections played by the radio man in court and holding that the music was sweet dismissed the complaint.

A few days ago Judge Hand, sitting in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, in the old Post-office Building on Park Row, ordered the arrest of a radio dealer whose loud speaker, said Hizoner, disrupted the dignity of the court.

Brother Max Finkelstein, the "guilty defendant," asked for an adjournment of the disorderly conduct hearing, which was granted.

The woman whose complaint was dismissed some time ago is said to be eagerly watching the outcome of the case of Judge Hand vs. Max Finkelstein.

If it terminates the way everyone knows it will, some Sunday editor should write her for three hundred words on "Justice."

How to Achieve Beauty

MAKE EVERY MOMENT OF YOUR DAY COUNT FOR BEAUTY

Beauty While You Sleep

Today you may think I have given you something really simple to do. You can be as lazy as you please and know that you are gaining beauty that way. Not at all! Everything in its proper place, have only said, beauty while you sleep, and I do not advocate that those hours should be long. The loveliest women I know are those who are the most alert and on the tip-toe all the time, and not those who spend any great number of hours in bed or stretched out on chaise longue or in easy chairs.

Besides, before you go to bed, I am going to give you several things to do. And if you do not go through with these, you may sleep all you please, but in vain, for it will not add its full quota to your beauty.

In the first place you will not retire without having thoroughly cleansed your face, whether with hot water and a soap substitute, if it is oily, or with a cleansing cream, if dry. Nor without having added an astringent lotion, or a feeding cream, as your need may be to leave on all night. You will have brushed your hair snappily. You will have cleansed your teeth, and your hands and nails of every bit of the day's grime. You will further have anointed the latter, with a good lotion and donned loose pull-on white chamomisee gloves.

Then you will have prepared your bed by casting aside your big pillows, though you may retain the "baby pillow," that trifle of linen and lace, dear to the hearts of women, if you so wish. When all is ready you will go to the window and open it as wide as possible, that all night long you may be breathing in the vitalizing, complexion-bringing fresh air. Then when you have jumped into bed, you will put yourself in a serene frame of mind before you drop off to sleep.

Sleeping according to this routine will bring beauty to your morning's light.

SONGS of a HOUSEWIFE

BREAD AND JAM
(Suggested by Mrs. Mary W.)
They enjoy a bun or sandwich, Filled with butter, cheese or ham, But at four o'clock, say youngsters, Nothing touches bread and jam!

I love to hear their footsteps Rushing home when school is done— Luncheon long has been forgotten, And "starvation" has begun!

I love to watch their faces When the jam is "extra thick," And the solum way they sample, And taste, and turn, and lick.

One feels the same with kittens, Or a pup with eager tongue— The joy in feeding anything That's hungry and that's young.

COLONIAL TEA HELD IN JAMESTOWN TUESDAY

One of the largest and most enjoyable social functions of the season was the Colonial Tea which took place at the home of Mrs. William Sutton, 3, Limestone St., Jamestown, Tuesday from 2 until 4 p. m.

In keeping with the anniversary of Washington's birth, the rooms of the Sutton home were attractively decorated in the red, white and blue color scheme. Emblems were used with flags while festive shades covered the lights in the reception room and candles shed a mellow glow over the dining room.

The dainty tea table was beautiful and carried out the color combination of red, white and blue. It was adorned with a large silver cup containing sweetened and lighted with red candles in crystal holders. Each guest was favored with a miniature silk flag. Mrs. Arthur P. Gordon and Mrs. Walter W. Barnett, dressed in Colonial costume, graciously presided at the tea table. The Misses Thelma White and Cleo Tidd also in Colonial dress received the guests. The Misses Mary Sutton and Margaret Glass as George and Martha Washington assisted in the dining room.

A program of excellent music was furnished by the Jefferson Twp. School Orchestra and the Misses Uza Sutton, Louise Skyles, Maude Bolen and Elliot Sutton and Max Conklin.

There were about 140 in attendance and the guests included a number from Bowersville, Cedarville and Grassy Run. The affair was sponsored by Section Number Two of the Ladies Aid of the Jamestown Friends Church of which Mrs. Hanna Bland is group leader. The invited guests responded generously to the request for a silver offering for the Ladies Aid which is planning a new oak floor in the church.

RYAN-KENNEDY NUPTIALS SATURDAY

St. Brigid's Catholic Church was the scene of a pretty ceremony Saturday morning at 7:30 o'clock, when Miss Lenora Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan, W. Second St., was united in marriage with Dr. Thomas Kennedy, Cleveland dentist, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Kennedy, this city.

One hundred relatives and friends of the couple witnessed the ceremony. The church altar was banked with cut flowers, palms and ferns. Before the entrance of the bride party, Miss Eleanor McDonnell sang several nuptial songs and other wedding music was played by Miss Margaret McDonnell on the violin and by the church choir.

The bride party was led by Miss Elizabeth Ryan, sister of the bride, who wore orchid satin combined with georgette and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. Miss Catherine Kennedy, sister of the bridegroom, as maid of honor, walked next. She wore a gown of green crepe and carried pink roses. Mr. Clarence Ryan, brother of the bride, was best man. The bride chose for her wedding gown white satin with shadow lace, headed in rhinestones and pearls. Her tulle veil fell to the hem of her gown and her bouquet was of bride's roses, arranged in a shower.

The nuptial high mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father David Powers, pastor of St. Brigid's Church, and the Rev. Edward A. McGinty, pastor of St. Augustine's Catholic Church, Jamestown.

After the church ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served members of the two immediate families at the Ryan home.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy left Saturday noon for Cleveland, where they will reside. Dr. Kennedy maintains dental offices on E. Eighty-ninth St., Cleveland. He graduated from the dental college at the University of Cincinnati in the spring of 1926. His bride graduated from St. Brigid's High School in 1923 and Dr. Kennedy from Central High School in 1921. She has been employed in the offices of The Buckeye Press, this city.

OFFICERS READY TO ARREST TWO SOUGHT FOR CHARGES HERE

When Gus Clements, Lima, O., is released from the Lucas County Workhouse at Toledo, sometime Saturday at the expiration of a sixty-day sentence served for contributing to the delinquency of a minor, he will find Constable E. J. Wilkins, this city, waiting to arrest him on a charge of abduction brought by Colonel T. E. Andrews, superintendent of the O. S. and S. O. Home.

Clements is accused of engineering a plot whereby a seventeen-year-old girl was kidnapped from the Home November 20, 1926.

Sheriff Ohmer Tate detailed the constable to perform this duty and Wilkins, armed with a warrant, left for Toledo Saturday.

Virginia Brady, Lima, also alleged to be connected with the abduction plot in an affidavit filed by Colonel Andrews, is serving a similar sentence at the women's state reformatory at Marysville, O., but her term does not expire for some time. It is learned by Sheriff Tate. She will also be arrested and returned to Xenia upon her release.

BUILDING DESTROYED BY FIRE SHORTLY BEFORE PUBLIC SALE

Shortly before a sheriff's sale was to be held on the premises, fire broke out in a one-story frame building at E. Church and Taylor Sts., owned by the late A. A. Gwynn, colored, and virtually destroyed the entire structure before it was brought under control by firemen Saturday morning.

It was the third fire in this building within the past two years. One year ago the building was almost destroyed.

Origin of the blaze is undetermined. The contents were totally destroyed and the entire loss is estimated at several hundred dollars.

The building is used as a combination second hand store, blacksmith shop and dwelling. Flames were first discovered in a room on the east side, in the second hand store division, by two boys, sons of the late owner, when they entered a room to build a fire in a stove preparatory to conducting a sale of the premises as the estate is being settled.

Blaze broke out at 8:40 o'clock and was not brought under control until 10:06 o'clock. An attempt was made to beat out the flames before summoning the department and by the time firemen arrived, the flames had gained great headway.

Water was played on the structure for more than an hour and nearby buildings, endangered, were saved. It is not known whether the loss is covered by insurance.

GROVER BALES MADE OLDSMOBILE AGENT FOR GREENE COUNTY

Grover C. Bales, Upper Ballbrook Pike, has taken over the agency for Oldsmobile autos in Greene County.

Mr. Bales will operate under the Central Motor Sales Co., Dayton, which has the territory distribution rights for Oldsmobile, and he will establish branch sales agencies in various Greene County towns.

Oldsmobile headquarters and service office will be at the Elton Smith garage, off W. Second St. Oldsmobile is thus the newest auto added to the Greene County family of motor cars although it is one of the oldest cars on the market. The Oldsmobile is in the popular price field and unlimited success for the new agency is being forecast.

A future as bright as the chromolium plating on Oldsmobile radiators was visioned by the western dealers of Olds Motor Works at their annual dinner held recently in Chicago. Nearly five hundred dealers were present and it was the most optimistic gathering in the long history of Oldsmobile annual dealer dinners.

The keynote of the evening was given by L. J. Reuter, president and general manager of Olds Motor Works, who declared that the steady gains made by Oldsmobile during the past two years predicted still greater prosperity in the future.

All indications point to a good automobile year in 1927, said Mr. Reuter. "American business and American people are pursuing a sane course without inflation or extravagance. This should make for continued prosperity in general. And the continued demand for transportation, both by business and individuals, is highly favorable for the automobile industry."

Mr. Reuter tendered praise to the General Motors Corporation and its officials for the same, conservative policies that have brought the corporation to the position of eminence it has attained. Part of this success, he said, has been due to the consistent advancements made by Oldsmobile in the parent corporation is solidly backing Oldsmobile to greater success.

Recapitulating the records of 1926, Mr. Reuter pointed out that the automobile industry as a whole has gained 2.88 per cent during the year while the gain for the year by Oldsmobile in domestic sales, he said, was 38.15 per cent, or more than thirteen times as much as the gain of the entire industry.

Keynote speakers at the dinner were D. S. Eddins, vice president and general sales manager and H. S. Wier, assistant general sales manager.

"The General Motors Corporation has just perfected a new testing machine for determining the static and dynamic balance of a crankshaft, and one is now being used at Olds Motor Works. The element of friction is eliminated in this test by running the shaft in a vertical rather than a horizontal position. The upper end is held rigid while the lower is held by spring controlled rollers. Any lack of balance is automatically recorded on a chart. Both ends of the shaft are similarly tested."

"The chart records any lack of balance in the shaft and excess metal is removed to bring it into balance. The shaft is again tested and a final test is made with both ends free to register any deviation."

"That is what is meant when it is said that a crankshaft is both statically and dynamically balanced."

PAIGE PEOPLE WILL PUT EIGHT CYLINDER CAR IN PRODUCTION

Xenia Paige-Jewett Co., W. Main St., local representatives of the Paige have had word from the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Co. that it will put its new eight-cylinder car in production in March. Full facilities of the factory will be devoted to catching up with the orders already on hand as a result of exhibiting the eight in advance at the leading automobile shows.

Twelve show cars were built expressly for the shows, each car appearing in several cities, and everywhere it became a center of interest. Although prospective purchasers had no opportunity to ride in the new car, many were sufficiently impressed with the beauty and style of the model and the clean-cut lay-out of the chassis to place orders for future delivery.

Only the five-passenger sedan was exhibited; nevertheless, orders have been placed for other models by motorists assured that all bodies on the new chassis will be fully up to the traditionally high standards of Paige design, finish, and appointments. The complete line of Paige eights will include six models—the seven-passenger touring car, $2295; the cabriolet roadster, four-passenger, $2655; the coupe, four-passenger, $2655; the seven-passenger sedan, $2655; and the limousine, $2795.

The addition of the eight to the three series of sixes will place Paige dealers in the advantageous position of having a line of twenty models, completely covering the price field between the lowest and highest price classes. The price range is well illustrated by the five-passenger closed car types, of which Paige will have no less than six models—the 6-45 brougham at $1095; the 6-45 sedan, $1195; the 6-45 landau-brougham, $1395; the 6-45 sedan, $1495; the 6-75 sedan, $1695; and the new 8-85 sedan at $2355.

WHAT to WEAR and HOW to WEAR IT

By LUCY CLAIRE
Favorite Fashion Adviser

When men go in for colors, I remember we agreed a few weeks ago that they are gay and riotous, particularly in their personal belongings such as their lounging gowns. But they reach the other extreme when they demand that their bath robes have comfort as their first and lasting requisite.

Take, for example, the bath robe pictured on the right. First of all the material in this robe which is of a blue and white Turkish towel, is just what is needed in a robe of this type—being pleasing to the wearer and at the same time easily laundered. Whether the man cares to quickly slip it on after his steaming bath or perhaps, for a few minutes after he is partially dressed when he is shaving he will find it roomy and comfortable. The bath slippers, you will note, are of the same material—making this addition to the man's wardrobe complete in every detail.

During the last year or so there has been a great vogue for French flannel bath robes. Indeed, I must confess that they have been so attractive in their gray and blue and rose stripes that they have caught the eye of the fairer sex and any day they may be found invading the men's departments to purchase these attractive robes for themselves. They are of lighter weight than the first robe I described to you but sufficiently warm nevertheless. French flannel, as you know, does not shrink and washes beautifully.

For the man who enjoys a half-hour or an hour's reading in bed, I am glad to suggest this cozy semi-robe which comes in a variety of materials—woolen for winter and quilted silk for summer.

I have been quite interested in the flair that men's lounging slippers have taken recently. I have seen them in all colors and all leathers, including alligator and seal, but perhaps the leather which makes up the most comfortable slipper is kidskin and, of course, that can be obtained in all colors, as well as the staple browns and blacks.

RETURN PRISONER HERE UPON ALLEGED CHARGE OF FORGERY

Culminating a two months' search, George P. Russell, 30, colored, son of the late J. D. M. Russell, former secretary of Wilberforce University, was arrested in Cincinnati Thursday and returned to Xenia to face a charge of forgery.

Arraigned before R. O. Copsey, justice of the peace, Friday, Russell pleaded not guilty and his hearing is set for Saturday, March 5. He was arranging to furnish $500 bond to gain his release Saturday.

Russell had been employed in Cincinnati by Coleman Avery, former municipal court judge, and now attorney for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co., at College Hill. He was arrested and returned

TO ASSESS PENALTY ON LAX DOG OWNERS

After Monday, February 28, a penalty of $1.00 assessed against all dog owners in Greene County who are delinquent in the purchase of new license tags for their pets, will be enforced, it is announced. Monday is the deadline date for purchase of the plates without delinquency.

Tags for male dogs cost $1 and for female dogs $3. After Monday the charge will be $2 and $4, respectively.

Sale of tags this year is running about 400 shy of the record of 1926 at this time. The plates may be purchased at the County Auditor's office. The office closes at 4:30 p. m. Monday.

BUICK WAS EARNING REPUTATION YEARS AGO-IS STILL GOOD

Seventeen years ago a Texas editor found news in the fact that a Buick Model 10 traveled a distance of ninety miles at an average speed of eighteen miles an hour. The item read:

"Last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore started out towards Fort Stockton with their twenty horsepower Buick Model 10, going forty-five miles out and return, making the distance in five hours." Then was added this editorial opinion: "That certainly is making splendid time over country roads." This was the first horizontal

A Finer DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

New in Beauty, Comfort and Performance — Still more Dependable

Now ready for your inspection and personal test—a finer Dodge Brothers Motor Car than ever before, due to many new and vitally important improvements. So important, in fact, that only a personal inspection will give you an adequate idea of what further engineering advances and greater production have accomplished in extra values. Read this partial list of the latest improvements and then investigate:

A New Clutch—Simple, Prompt, Sure and Silent.
Softer Pedal Action
Easier Gear Shifting
New Body Lines—as smart and graceful as any on the boulevards
New Color Combinations of Striking Beauty
Still Sturdier Bodies
Seats Re-designed for greater comfort
New Silent-Type Muffler
Improved Universal Joint, Propeller Shaft, Differential and Axle Shaft—creating greater sturdiness and resistance to wear
And Many Other Smart New Refinements of Detail.

Remember, too, that all these are in addition to many important improvements recently announced, including the five-bearing crank shaft and the two-unit starting, lighting and ignition system that inspired owners to new expressions of enthusiasm and satisfaction.

Look at these big roomy cars and you will realize that it is not possible to invest more wisely in dependable transportation.

A New PAIGE for only $1095

BECAUSE of the sharp price reductions now prevailing on many of the 20 charming Paige cars, you can buy one enclosed car—the Brougham on the 6-45 chassis—for only $1095 f.o.b. factory.

This Brougham is one of the most popular of the many new Paige models in both Sixes and Eights. But should you prefer a car of a different size or type, you will be able to make the same worthwhile saving. You will not find in any other cars of comparable quality and comparable beauty—such down-right dollar-for-dollar value.

Paige has reduced only its prices. Its cars are still the style leaders of the industry.

They are powerful cars—with larger, speedier, more quickly accelerated motors—with such distinctive mechanical improvements as air cleaners, rubber-cushioned clutches, bronze-backed bearings, silent chain timing and Paige-Hydraulic 4-wheel brakes.

Let us show you these charming style cars soon. Drive the model of your choice—there's no obligation whatsoever.

HORSE REPLACED BY DODGE WHEN MEXICO CITY BARS DOBBIN

While most cities still allow traffic in congested districts to be slowed down to the plodding walk of dray horses, Mexico City has ruled Dobbin off the streets. The capital of Mexico has become one of the world's most completely motorized cities.

The results from a law that recently went into effect which forbids the use of any metal tread vehicle on the city pavements. The metal shoes of horses, of course, come under the ban. Public demand for the law grew out of heavy expense for upkeep of pavement which was said by engineers to be due to metal shoe hoofs and wheels. The speeding up of traffic was also sought.

News of this progressive move was brought to Detroit by James G. Shirley, General Manager of Cia Unidas de Ventas, S. A., Mexico City Dealer for Dodge Brothers cars and Graham Brothers trucks, who is visiting Dodge Brothers and Graham Brothers plants here.

Mr. Shirley brought with him orders for unprecedented numbers of Graham Brothers trucks and Dodge Brothers cars. "The immense volume of these orders which have poured into our office since the law was passed a few weeks ago," Mr. Shirley says, "is convincing evidence of the good name which these sturdy cars and trucks enjoy in the Mexican Capitol. During a single week recently orders were received in Mexico City alone for fifty Graham Brothers trucks."

"These trucks are by far the most popular commercial transportation equipment in this section of Mexico. In Mexico City the government uses upwards of 100 Graham Brothers units for ambulances, police patrols and practically every other municipal activity. Graham Brothers trucks are used also by a majority of our large Mexican and American fleet owners."

"At El Oro, a mining town near Mexico City, out of a total of thirty-eight cars and trucks, thirty-six are of Dodge Brothers and Graham Brothers make, while at Pachuca, the world's largest silver mining camp, producing sixty per cent of all silver mined, Dodge Brothers cars and Graham Brothers trucks outnumber all other makes combined."

"The reason for this outstanding leadership," Mr. Shirley says, "is the dependability and mountain climbing ability of these cars and trucks. So powerful is the Dodge Brothers engine that more than fifty rail cars of the interurban type have been equipped with Graham Brothers power. These are operated on former steam railroad lines leading out of Mexico City in all directions."

Johnston Motor Sales sells Dodge here.

CHEVROLET MOTORS LARGEST MAKER OF GEAR SHIFT TRUCKS

Attaining a production of 112,499 commercial vehicles during 1926, an increase of more than 132 per cent over the preceding year, the Chevrolet Motor Company is now the world's largest manufacturer of gear shift trucks, according to figures just announced by company officials.

The increase is a gain of 64,200 over the 1925 production of 48,299 trucks.

This enormous increase is attributed in no small degree to the numerous refinements and lowered prices of the new trucks. Dealers everywhere reported an enthusiastic reception by the public of these new models.

The 1925 production in its turn had more than doubled the 1924 output of 23,134 trucks.

According to present manufacturing schedules an even greater monthly production is contemplated for the truck division during the coming months to insure dealers a sufficient supply to meet the growing demand.

Production during January, 1927, totalling 15,927 trucks, also broke all truck production records for a single month in the history of the company. The previous high mark was in September, 1926, when 12,845 trucks were manufactured.

Lang Chevrolet Co., Green St., is showing new models in trucks and pleasure cars.

M'COOK FIELD WINS PRAISE IN ADDRESS OF AVIATION CHIEF
McCook Field, Dayton, has contributed more to advancement of aeronautics than any other agency in the United States, P. T. Davidson, assistant secretary of war in charge of aviation, told more than 200 officers and experts of McCook and Wright Fields, at a "fellowship" dinner at McCook field, Friday night.

The secretary and his assistant H. J. Davidson, Washington, were guests of Brig. Gen. William E. Gilmore, commandant of the new Wilbur Wright field, while in Dayton on a tour of inspection of McCook Field and Wright Field, Fairfield. The party inspected the new Wilbur Wright Field with special interest in new developments of bombing ships and progress made at the field.

The five-year aviation program has assumed new life after it was assured the President would approve the bill, Davidson said in his talk.

This bill provides for greater activity in aeronautics with an appropriation of $20,000,000. It is before congress now.

"We don't want to equal progress with other nations in aviation," said Davidson, "but we want to keep ahead in every development." He said that great problems facing congress in regard to aviation are being met satisfactorily in the material division of which McCook and Wilbur Wright Fields are a part.

SUTTON WRITES NEW MUSICAL SHOW FOR AMERICAN LEGION

Announcement of the forthcoming production of the "Yankee Rose," a three-act musical play, with a World War background, written and directed by John T. Sutton, of local amateur theatrical fame, to be given sometime in March, was made Saturday.

The home-talent show is for the benefit of the Joseph Post, American Legion, and will have a cast of 100 people. The dates have not been set.

All persons interested in becoming members of the cast are asked to meet in the Assembly Room at the Court House at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening when preliminary details will be formulated.

The show will be personally directed by Mr. Sutton but in charge of William Rickles with the musical lines under direction of H. E. Seall, director of the O. S. and S. O. Home Cadet band.

Mr. Sutton originally came in to local prominence as a composer of home-talent stage vehicles, as co-author with Emmett Hardy of "The Lady in Blue," presented in 1926. His most recent success, "The Terrible Demon," presented in December, 1926, met with great success.

CHICAGO MAN WILL ADDRESS KIWANIS

Frank E. Strouse, Chicago, special representative of the general manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad, will address Xenia Kiwanis Club next Tuesday evening at the Elk's Club.

Mr. Strouse will speak on "Transportation—The Life of the Nation." The committee in charge, which has arranged for the address, is urging all Kiwanians to attend. The committee is composed of M. H. Schmidt, chairman,

Clement L. Kimmel as administrator of the estate of the late Harry Kimmel, will offer the personal property of the deceased at public sale on Wednesday, March 9.

STRUCK BY AUTO

Rodney Roberts, Jamestown, received severe bruises and had his left knee dislocated and crushed when he was struck by the auto owned and driven by County Recorder B. F. Thomas, Xenia, near Jamestown, Thursday night.

Mr. Roberts was standing alongside the auto of Earl Glass, Jamestown, who was parked on the left side of the road, in the ditch, headed towards Xenia. The lights of the Glass machine blinded Mr. Thomas who was coming in the opposite direction, it is said, and hence, striking Mr. Roberts. The injured man was removed to his home. No other occupants of either car were hurt.

RUTH ENDS MOVIE CAREER—SEEKS CASH

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 26.—Having disported before the camera to complete his first motion picture, Babe Ruth will leave here tonight for New York, where he will talk salary terms with Jake Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees.

Ruth has already refused a renewal of his contract on last year's terms, a contract which called for $52,000 a year. Babe is said to be holding out for $100,000, although it is thought here he could be persuaded to sign if offered a sum in the vicinity of $75,000.

BELLBROOK

Mrs. John Higgins and son, Herman of Dayton, spent Sunday with friends in and around town.

Funeral services for Calvin Williamson, who died Tuesday, were held at Quire's Church Thursday, and burial made in Bellbrook Cemetery.

The death of Mr. Williamson, robs Sugar Creek Twp. of one of her best citizens. He leaves beside the widow, two children, Morris and Mae Williamson, the former being at present a member of the Township Board of Trustees.

Our local garage man Glenn Hess, has purchased a derrick with which to pull stuck automobiles from the "mire and the clay" and place them on solid ground. Already he has rescued a number of machines that were helpless within themselves to escape from the plight in which they were placed.

Clement L. Kimmel as administrator of the estate of the late Harry Kimmel, will offer the personal property of the deceased at public sale on Wednesday, March 9.

THE BUCKEYE LOOP

A six-team baseball league organized within Greene and Montgomery Counties, and composed of clubs from Dayton, Xenia, Osborn, Harshman, Beavertown and Bellbrook, will give Sunday afternoon exhibitions of the sport at each of the named places in their respective turns during the coming season, beginning some time in April or May. A regular schedule has been worked out and so far as possible will be carried through to the liner. Harry E. Watson, who has been chosen manager of the Bellbrook team, informs us that his team when complete will be able to give all other members of the organization a merry chase for the championship.

Allen Good will make public sale of his personal farm property on Wednesday March 2.

Robert Hultgren, of West Maple

S. W. Guyton and City Manager S. O. Hale.

Arrangements have also been made for Mr. Strouse to address pupils of Central High School Tuesday morning.

Ruth has already refused a renewal of his contract on last year's terms, a contract which called for $52,000 a year. Babe is said to be holding out for $100,000, although it is thought here he could be persuaded to sign if offered a sum in the vicinity of $75,000.

BELLBROOK

Mrs. John Higgins and son, Herman of Dayton, spent Sunday with friends in and around town.

Funeral services for Calvin Williamson, who died Tuesday, were held at Quire's Church Thursday, and burial made in Bellbrook Cemetery.

The death of Mr. Williamson, robs Sugar Creek Twp. of one of her best citizens. He leaves beside the widow, two children, Morris and Mae Williamson, the former being at present a member of the Township Board of Trustees.

Our local garage man Glenn Hess, has purchased a derrick with which to pull stuck automobiles from the "mire and the clay" and place them on solid ground. Already he has rescued a number of machines that were helpless within themselves to escape from the plight in which they were placed.

Clement L. Kimmel as administrator of the estate of the late Harry Kimmel, will offer the personal property of the deceased at public sale on Wednesday, March 9.

THE BUCKEYE LOOP

A six-team baseball league organized within Greene and Montgomery Counties, and composed of clubs from Dayton, Xenia, Osborn, Harshman, Beavertown and Bellbrook, will give Sunday afternoon exhibitions of the sport at each of the named places in their respective turns during the coming season, beginning some time in April or May. A regular schedule has been worked out and so far as possible will be carried through to the liner. Harry E. Watson, who has been chosen manager of the Bellbrook team, informs us that his team when complete will be able to give all other members of the organization a merry chase for the championship.

Allen Good will make public sale of his personal farm property on Wednesday March 2.

Robert Hultgren, of West Maple

Ross and Bath Favored After Friday Tourney Play

By PHIL FRAME
 Ross Twp., Bath Twp., Cedarville and Beavercreek reached the semi-finals in the boys' division and Ross Twp., Cedarville, Bath Twp. and Bellbrook did likewise in the girls' class as a result of Friday's preliminary and first round games in the thirteenth annual Greene County Class B Basketball Tournament at Central High School gym. Several budding cherry trees in the tourney orchard felt the hatchet in the opening day's play but on the whole the teams in both divisions favored to come through their first round games safely did not disappoint.

 Friday's play opened in the morning with Beavercreek girls, the 1926 tourney winners, defeating the O. S. and S. O. Home ladies 24 to 19. In the other preliminary round girls' game, Ross Twp. stepped all over Bowersville to win with ease 28 to 14. Cedarville girls earned the right to enter the semi-finals by nosing out Caesar Creek 15 to 10. Ross Twp. sprang a slight surprise in their first round game by eliminating the champion Beaver girls team 26 to 25 to become eligible to meet Cedarville in the semi-finals in the lower bracket. Ross played sensationally and a spurt in the closing minutes brought victory.

 In the upper bracket, Bellbrook and Bath Twp. will meet in the semi-finals Saturday as Bellbrook eliminated Yellow Springs after a hard fight 10 to 9 and Bath

Twp. won a walk-away game from Spring Valley, rolling up a score of 53 to 26 for the greatest number of points made by any team in the tourney to date. In the preliminary round in the boys' division, Ross Twp. polished off Bowersville 20 to 15 meeting with stiffer opposition than expected and then showed improved form in the evening to run up fifty-four points on Caesar Creek High, winning 54 to 25. Caesar Creek had previously dished out a 29 to 17 defeat to Spring Valley in the preliminary round. —

 Brakefield and Swain, Ross stars, swept up and down the floor time after time to score thirty-two points between them sixteen apiece. This is the highest score recorded in the tourney.
 Cedarville defeated Bellbrook boys 22 to 16 in the same bracket and will oppose Ross in the semi-finals. The two teams have met twice this season and honors are even.
 Bath Twp. and Beavercreek, victors in their first round games, will meet in the semi-finals Saturday in the upper bracket. Bath surprised with an easy 32 to 13 victory over the strong Home five, caging shots from all angles of the floor. Bath led at the half 25 to 4 but was outscored in the second two periods. Fulton starred for the winners.

 In the second game of this bracket, Beavercreek defeated Yellow Springs handily 29 to 12. No games were scheduled for Saturday morning. In the afternoon Bellbrook and Bath Twp.

girls met in the semi-finals at 1 p. m. with Bath favored to win. In the Ross Twp.—Cedarville girls' clash at 3 p. m., Ross was given a slight edge.
 In the boys' semi-final games, Bath and Beaver met at 2 p. m. and Ross and Cedarville at 4 p. m. with Ross and Bath favored to test supremacy in the finals Saturday night as in the past two years. The two teams have not met this season.
 In 1925 Bath defeated Ross for the county championship and Ross reversed the order of things in 1926 by triumphing over Bath in the final round. Both teams are physically strong and able to endure the strain of tourney play and an even battle would be in prospect.

 The championship girls' game is set for 7:30 p. m. and the final boys' contest at 8:30 o'clock. More than 1,500 people witnessed the tournament games Friday and in the evening the gymnasium was filled to overflowing with seats at a premium.

SUIT TO CONSTRUCT WILL FILED HERE; MONEY SUITS FILED

Suit for construction of the will of the late John Hupman and validity of several assignments made has been filed in Common Pleas Court by J. A. Finney, as administrator of the estate.
 Fifteen defendants are named in the petition, all heirs of the decedent. They are Emma Webb, J. Christopher Hupman, Harvey Hupman, Paul Hupman, Anna V. Brewer, Robert Moore, John Moore, Cal Caldwell, Philip Moore, Leslie Moore, Thomas L. Moore, minor, Martha Moore, minor, Eleanor Moore, minor, Lillian G. Webb, guardian of the minor defendants, and Harry D. Smith, executor of the estate of Thomas M. Moore, deceased.
 The administrator declares he is in doubt as to the construction of the will. The estate has been settled and all that remains is distribution of funds, according to the petition. Miller and Finney are attorneys for the plaintiff.

ALLEGED DUE ON CONTRACT

Suit for $157.25 has been filed in Common Pleas Court by Cyrus L. Wantz against Charles and Florence Wantz. Plaintiff claims he deeded a one-half interest in certain property to the defendants for a consideration of $700 to be paid in installments of $200 cash, and was to receive $200 and $250 in notes covered by a mortgage.
 The full amount remains due on the transaction, the petition recites, as a check for $200 given the plaintiff for the initial payment was returned marked "no funds" and has not been made good. C. W. Whitmer is plaintiff's attorney.

NOTE SUIT FILED

John Lee Eichelberger, executor of the will of the late Andrew W. Eichelberger, of Montgomery County, has brought suit for $4,000 in Common Pleas Court against Joseph F. Meiering and Anne M. Meiering, his wife, living on a rural route out of Dayton. The Dayton Savings and Trust Co., and The Greenview Realty Co., located in the Keith building in Dayton.
 The action involves five promissory notes amounting to $22,000. The first note for $2,000 was paid but the second falling due in January, 1927, remains unpaid, the petition recites. Foreclosure of mortgaged property is asked. Defendant companies claim prior claims. Virgil Shaeffer is attorney for the plaintiff.

ESTATES VALUED

Gross value of the estate of Mary E. Jacoby, deceased, has been determined at $21,222 in Probate Court. Debts and cost of administration are listed at $2,547, leaving an actual market value of $18,675. Gross value of the estate of the late Catherine Higgins, has been set at $9,105.51. Deducting debts and cost of administration amounting to $510.41, the net value of estate is placed at $8,595.10.

Gargle Aspirin for Tonsilitis or Sore Throat

A harmless and effective gargle is to dissolve two "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in four tablespoonfuls of water, and gargle throat thoroughly. Repeat in two hours if necessary.
 Be sure you use only the genuine Bayer Aspirin, marked with the Bayer Cross, which can be had in tin boxes of twelve tablets for a few cents. —Adv.

MAYOR'S COURT

HEAVY FINES INFLICTED
 Pleading guilty to illegal possession of liquor, Foster Gossard, London, was fined $150 and costs and Thomas Sharpin, of near London, was fined $125 and costs by Mayor John W. Prugh Saturday morning.

Gossard and Sharpin were arrested with two women, Myrtle Cannon and Minnie Cooper, by Patrolmen George Robinson, Ed Craig and Charles Thompson on Second St. at 2 o'clock Saturday morning.

The women were turned loose and not required to face charges of disorderly conduct when they agreed to testify in support of police charges that their two male companions had been drinking and threw away a pint of liquor when police approached their auto.

The quartet had attended a dance at Sedalia Friday night. Minnie Cooper was escorted to the dance by two boys and Myrtle Cannon by her brother. The boys were standing on the running board of the car occupied by the four, which was returning from the dance to Xenia and this attracted the attention of officers, who trailed the auto.

Two arrested
 Edward Jones, 17, colored, student at Wilberforce University, charged with operating a car while intoxicated, and Frederick Sanders, 33, watchman at the university, accused of illegal possession of liquor, were to be arraigned before Mayor Prugh Saturday afternoon.

Possibly the local casers will emerge from their slumbers Saturday and atone for the Preps defeat by walloping Piqua, thus ending the regular schedule with a pleasing record of thirteen victories against three defeats.

HOPE TO DEDICATE TEMPLE IN APRIL

Favored by good weather, it is anticipated that construction work on the new $55,000 annex to the recently-acquired Masonic Temple in the Dodds Addition, will have been advanced to such an extent, that dedication exercises may be held some time during April.

The structure being built is now completely under roof and the final corner of the plastering work is expected to be let next week.

When completed, the temple will be one of the most picturesque in this section of the state.

UNION MEETING OF WOMEN AT CHURCH

Plans are taking form for the union meeting of all Women's Missionary Societies of the city, at Presbyterian Church, Market and King Sts., Friday, March 4, to observe "The World Day of Prayer For Missions."

CUPS DISPLAYED

Four beautifully mounted silver loving cups, to be awarded the boys' and girls' basketball teams reaching the finals in the thirteenth annual Greene County Basketball Tournament, in progress at Central High gymnasium, are being displayed in the north show window of Geyer's book store, St. Detroit St. They are to become the permanent possession of the teams finishing first and second in both divisions of the annual meet.

When the housewife must go up and down stairs many times a day they seem to stretch out before her many times their length.

Often while busy with her duties upstairs, the telephone will ring and she must hasten down to answer it.

Many such trips tire her out.

There is a way to eliminate those stairs by installing an extension telephone in the upper hall or in one of the sleeping rooms. It will cost only a few cents a day.

You can give your order to any telephone employee or at our business office.
